A DOC designation for a selection of red, white and rosé wines made from local grape varieties.

Locorotondo DOC

A white wine with a rich, fruity character, perfect with Mediterranean fish dishes.

Primitivo di Manduria DOC

GIN DI PUGLIA

Apulian gin is produced through a slow distillation of grain-based alcohol and extra-virgin olive oil, infused with Mediterranean botanicals such as coriander, liquorice root, juniper and olive leaves.

OLIVE OIL

The air and land of endless olive groves—carefully tended and neatly lined up—have an unmistakable scent: the aroma of Apulia and its olive oil.

SALUMI GIANNELLI

Giannelli is known across Italy for its traditional Apulian cured meats and outstanding quality.

LUNCH AT A MASSERIA WITH A CHEESEMAKER AT WORK

Introduced in Southern Italy from the 16th century, masserie—historically groups of stone farm buildings used for agriculture—have become wonderful rural estates and modern places to enjoy the countryside. We'll stop at a masseria in the Ostuni area to taste typical Apulian cuisine: simple in appearance, yet prepared with love and passion using seasonal, local ingredients. You'll also enjoy a cooking demonstration (including the preparation of orecchiette pasta) and watch a cheesemaker at work, producing fresh dairy products live.
